NOVEMBER 2014

NUMBER 9

FROM THE EAST

Brethren,

As we weave our way through autumn and enter into the holiday season, we should each and every one of us take time out to focus on the reason for each of these upcoming holidays. All too often with the hustle and bustle of activities, we become overwhelmed with the idea that we have to perform tasks, accomplish goals or complete jobs to make these occasions successful and satisfying.

Many younger people, not knowing how the day originated and all the sacrifices that were made by our veterans then through now, often see November 11, Veterans' Day only as a free day off from work. Originally, this date was known as Armistice Day, and when President Woodrow Wilson first proclaimed the holiday in 1919, he said in part "...Armistice Day will be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service...". In 1938, Congress declared November 11 an annual legal holiday, "a day to be dedicated to the cause of world peace...".

The first Thanksgiving was celebrated in 1621 with two disparate cultures coming together rejoicing in nature's bounty and sharing knowledge for the betterment of both communities. George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation by the national government of the United States declaring Thursday November 26, 1789 a day of "public thanksgiving and prayer" devoted to "the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be." In 1863, in the midst of the Civil War, Abraham Lincoln declared Thanksgiving a national holiday to be observed each November, entreating all Americans to ask God to "commend to his tender care all those who have become widows, orphans, mourners or sufferers in the lamentable civil strife."

Brethren,

In my erratic reading I tend to scan a lot of different items about Masonry. As many of you know already a sure cure for insomnia is an attempt at Morals and Dogma, or almost anything by Albert Pike. However, there are a lot of very interesting articles about Masonry available in a lot of different sources, among them the Short Talk Bulletins put out by the Masonic Service Association. I was looking through a stack of them in the library and came across a notebook donated by a brother which contained both an "Introduction to Freemasonry, New Candidate Membership Program" from the Grand Lodge of Arizona, F&AM, 10/1/93 and "The Pollard Plan, Program of Candidate Instruction" from the Grand Lodge of Maine, AF&AM 1984.

It was very interesting to scan both of those to see the similarities and differences. They both take the same approach towards candidates in presenting some of the history and development of Freemasonry and in preparing the candidates. Both take a delicate approach in that they use very careful language yet still provide the necessary information for a candidate to be assured that what he is about to experience will give him the tools to become a better man.

I especially like the italicized definitions of Masonry in the Arizona booklet. First, the definition is from England and is "a system of morality, veiled in allegory, and illustrated by symbols". A modern definition is "Freemasonry is an organized society of men, symbolically applying the principle of Operative Masonry and architecture to the science and art of character building". Yet I wonder how often we lose sight of the symbols and forget the allegorical stories of the degrees. The journey is just begun at the Blue Lodge, the art and science of character building is and should be an endless journey.

Brethren

In October, my family and I had the opportunity to visit the Gettysburg Military National Park and Gettysburg National Cemetery. The battlefield is enormous, and we were able to cover a good portion of the park in the four days we were there. During the battle, there were about 163,000 soldiers who were engaged of which approximately 18,000 were Freemasons! The battle raged on in Gettysburg for three days in July 1863 and in the end there were 51,000 casualties of which approximately 5,600 were Masons. Observing the battlefield, I envisioned the regiments marching along the slopes through cannon fire while others that were entrenched behind rock walls that are still visible today. I was amazed at the gallant efforts and bravery from both sides in the desperate fight for their cause. Despite their differences, there was the higher cause of Masonry which was demonstrated even in the thick of battle.

In 1990, an idea for a Masonic monument in Gettysburg was discussed in several lodges in Pennsylvania by Brother Sheldon Munn of Camp Hill, Pennsylvania. Much effort was involved to complete the design of the monument, let alone the political support from Washington D.C. to place such a monument in a national park. On August 21 of 1993, the "Friend to Friend Masonic Memorial" was dedicated in its own section of the Gettysburg National Cemetery. The top of the monument depicts a scene of Union Captain Henry Bingham rendering aid to mortally wounded Confederate General Armistead, both Masons. Inscribed on the monument are these "Their unique bonds of friendship enabled words: them to remain a brotherhood undivided, even as they fought a divided nation, faithfully supporting the respective governments under which they lived."

The November Stated Meeting dinner will be Turkey al la King with a side dish and a wonderful dessert. As always, please be sure to make a reservation in advance.

TO THE STUDY OF GEOMETRY Circumpunct: The Circle with a Dot in the Center

The circumpunct, often called the circle with a dot in the center, has been around for millennia. (See Figure 1) It has long been the perfect symbol of God. The circle represents the universe and the single point is emblematic of the single individual or self. It simple joins all with just one. This symbol was used to represent the sun in ancient Egypt. It is important to Freemasonry because it is associated with St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist. Their feast days occur on the summer and winter solstices and the circumpunct alludes to our annual solar orbit. The circumpunct can symbolize the moment of creation where everything started from one point.

Figure 1

The center point of circle is equidistant from any point on the circle surrounding it on a plane. The distance or a line segment from the center point is called the radius. The single letter r represents the radius in mathematics and in geometry. The distance across a circle is the twice the length of the radius and is called the diameter of the circle. The distance around the circle is called the circumference. The formula to calculate the area of a circle is Pl  $r^2$ . Pl is a circle's mathematical constant that is a ratio of its circumference to its diameter, approximately 3.14159.

For medieval alchemists the circle with a dot in the middle was the symbol used to represent gold. The goal of alchemy then was to turn the baser element of lead into a higher element of gold. As we pursue our own personal growth in Freemasonry for personal development, each of us is in fact achieving the ancient practice of transmuting lead (our former selves as good men) into gold, a symbol of purity, (by becoming better men as Masons) and in so doing we move closer to God and better serve God's grand plan for mankind. The Washington Monument and Milky Way (See Figures 2 and 3) are seen as images of the circumpunct made by man and God.

The circumpunct combines the perfect shape of the sphere, representing wholeness, with the point of one person or oneness. These dual ideas are symbolically linked to signify unity and spirituality of God and man in one icon. The Great Architect of the Universe created a perfect cosmos for us to experience within which we can choose to grow mystically where we can become better men as Masons. The symbol's circle can represent our body and the dot our inner being also. The circumpunct historically and presently symbolizes this unity of mother Earth and the Solar System, transmuting ourselves from lead to gold as Masons, and linking every man individually with the magnificence and eternity of God within the confines of a single symbol.

Bring your Birthday Card and get your dinner compliments of the Lodge.

HONOR FOR ONE OF OUR NEW MEMBERS

Our member, Cliff Baser, was accorded the honor of "SUPERVISOR OF THE MONTH" at the VA Hospital for August, 2014. You may not see him often around the Lodge but he is "up to his holsters" in Jobs Daughters Bethel No. 25 where his daughter was recently initiated. Well done, Cliff!

SICKNESS and DISTRESS

WB Jerry Fortson is getting better every day from his lung infection. It is great to she able to come out to some of the functions and we hope to see more of him as the months go on.

WB Paul Derderian has a very serious leg and blood problem. Around the 1st of the month his good leg started to swell to more than twice its normal size. The doctors have not been able to figure out what is causing the swelling but have given him some experimental medication that seems to be helping the swelling. He will be having more tests to hopefully solve the problem. He would like phone calls but does not wish any visitors as of now.

Please keep these Brothers and any others you know of in your prayers.

DEADWOOD LUNCH—Past Masters and Friends gather on the last Saturday of every month for fellowship at: LAVERNA'S COFFEE SHOP, STARTING TIME 11:30 A.M.

Deadwood has become a social gathering and tool for the Brothers of our Lodge. The knowledge you pass onto some of our less informed Brethren is priceless. You are the link from the past to the future. The success of our lodge, and Masonry, is in your hands.

You do make a difference....

HISTORY IS MADE AT TUCSON #4

Everyone who attended the regular meeting of Tucson L:odge #4 on Wednesday, October 1, 2014 witnessed a bit of history. The members of Pima Lodge #10, Prince Hall of Arizona were in attendance to thank several of Tucson Lodge's Brothers who have gone above and beyond the length of their cable-tows to assist Pima Lodge.

Most Worshipful Brother Robert Conrad, Worshipful Brother Vince Santos and Brother Ray Snow were given Honorary Memberships from Pima Lodge #10 for their many hours of work in the Fraternal Brotherhood that exists between the two Lodges.

Most Worshipful Brother Conrad was instrumental in working out all the details between both Grand Lodges to finally have recognition granted. Worshipful Brother Santos and Brother Snow did extensive work to help Pima Lodge remodel their Lodge building.

These two Lodges have been visiting one another's meetings throughout the last few years as well as supporting each others functions. It is rare to not see some Brothers from both Lodges not matter which Lodge is presiding.

This type of honor has never been given in Arizona before (nor do we believe anywhere in the nation) between the two Grand Lodges. The
